With Hands to Serve and Hearts to Love

Unity: Our Virtue and Value of the Week

Unity is an understanding that we are all one in Christ and that what we do to one another affects the entire Body.

Scripture Reference: Romans: 12:5-So we, though many, are one body in Christ and individually parts of one another.

In the final discourse in John's Gospel, Jesus expresses a desire for oneness of his people that reverberates through time. His prayer for unity seems like a faraway reality in today's world, however, as political, religious, racial, gender, or cultural divisions pit us against one another. At the interpersonal level, breaches in relationships threaten marriages and fray family ties. Quarrels left to fester turn into feuds, which sometimes endure for generations. Was Jesus engaged, then, in pipe-dreams?

Our Catholic faith tells us "no." The kingdom Jesus envisioned—of oneness through Him, with Him, and in Him—is what we proclaim each time we gather for that great unifying feast, the Eucharist. The profound act of sharing in the body and blood of Christ unites us in a mystical way, even if we live it imperfectly. Such mastery makes us one in Christ, transforming us, ever so slowly, into one body in Him. For me, one of the most profound moments of the Mass takes place after I have received the body and blood. While kneeling in prayer, I am moved by the processions of people throughout the church also receiving Christ through the Eucharist. Holy Communion is a celebration not only between God and me, but shared with the entire community. We do this together as one! As I have told students at OLA, the cross goes in two directions: vertical and horizontal. I see the vertical plane of the cross as my direct line to our Creator. And I see the horizontal plane as a direct line to my sisters and brothers in the community. And if you stop and think about it, one of the two parts of the word "Community" is, of course, unity!

By tapping into what unites us, we are better able to let down our defenses, open our hearts, and allow the Holy Spirit to ring us into "kinship." It is here we understand we not only need each other, but also we belong together, just as Jesus envisioned.

"A house divided against itself cannot stand," wrote Abraham Lincoln. This observation made before the Civil War has as much personal significance as it does for an entire country. Each of us can decide whether to be a unifying force in the world or a divisive one. Reflect on how you might contribute to a united Church and world through words, actions, and attitudes, which promote peace, harmony, understanding, and mutual respect.

Unity in Action

Look for ways to build community, foster a positive and supportive atmosphere, and provide resources and information, which will help us counter conflict and division in our parish and school community.

New School Web site

OLA Parish and School have completely updated our Web sites. I am pleased to share with you that today the school side of the site goes live. We are waiting for the developer to complete the calendar function of the parish side of the Web site. When that is completed the new parish site will also go live. While we are waiting for completion of the parish site, the temporary URL for our new school Web site will be <http://olaparishschool.beehv.com/> (Note that there is no "www" in the address). Once the parish site is complete, we will direct you to the new address for both sites.

God bless,

Robert Loue

~ An evening of exploring our Catholic faith through interaction and lively discussion ~

Our Guide: Kathy Coffey

Kathy is the author of 13 books and many articles in Catholic periodicals. She has won fifteen awards from the Catholic Press Association. Kathy has spoken at national conventions and diocesan gatherings. She gives retreats and workshops nationally and internationally. She taught for 15 years at the University of Colorado and Regis Jesuit University. The mother of four, and grandmother of three, she lives in Denver, Colorado.

Kathy will guide us to an appreciation of the sacredness of family life and the link between the official sacraments of the Church and the simple and joyful sacramental moments we encounter daily. Come and explore the best parts of the Catholic faith that we most want to pass onto our children!
