Reason for leaving Geographic SELPA:

Achieve Charter School administration and board members have been researching SELPA options since becoming an LEA in 2012. We were specifically looking for a SELPA interested in the success of charter schools and equity in governance, funding, and services. Over the last 4 years, we worked with our county SELPA leadership and other local charter LEAs to improve equity for charters within the SELPA. After researching the operating practices of EDCOE, Achieve leadership felt our special education program and students would benefit greatly from a partnership.

We are excited at the prospect of working with El Dorado SELPA who seem to truly understand the unique needs and challenges that comes from operating a charter school. The amount of support offered through the SELPA including various trainings will only enhance our program and help to improve our already successful school. However, we feel that the most important benefit of partnering with El Dorado will be that the school, acting as its own LEA in regard to Special Education, will become a voting member of the SELPA. Having a voice in our SELPA's decision making process will ensure that we are true partners, working together to support the success for all of our students with special needs. We believe that as our school continues to grow and the more successful that our educational programs become by partnering with the El Dorado SELPA, the better that we will reflect upon the SELPA as whole – a true win-win for all.

Reason for leaving Geographic SELPA:

Our rationale for pursuing a partnership with the EDCOE Charter SELPA was really a financial decision and one we came to agreement on with our new chartering district, San Diego Unified, who encouraged us to pursue this relationship. NUA 1001 STEAM is a relatively small school and costs to support special needs students can be quite high and have a significant impact on the budget. We want to continue serving our students and giving them the very best care and attention we can. We feel this relationship will support that effort.

Reason for leaving Geographic SELPA:

When YCCA was originally conceptualized, designed, and proposed by staff at the YCOE, it was expected the YCOE Board would approve YCCA as a dependent charter school of YCOE. However, the YCOE Board determined they wanted to have independence between YCCA and YCOE, and that they wanted YCCA to be autonomous. Thus the final proposal for YCCA that was approved by the authorizer (i.e., the YCOE board) was for YCCA to be an independent charter school that would be supported by YCOE through MOUs (including an MOU for special education). By applying for membership in the EDCOE Charter SELPA, YCCA is ensuring it will be as autonomous and independent as possible.
