St. Joseph Catholic School Celebrates SOLD OUT Crab Feed for Second Year in a Row

Auburn, California - February 10, 2020 - St. Joseph Catholic School is filled with gratitude as they celebrate a sold out Crab Feed fundraiser for the second year in a row. The annual crab feed, which brings together school families, Auburn community members, and St. Joseph and St. Teresa parishioners, was held at Placer Hall at Gold Country Fairgrounds on Saturday, January 25.

“We are thankful for our Auburn community and their love and support of our school,” said Jenny Oliver, principal at St. Joseph Catholic School. “It was wonderful to see every seat full and everyone having a great time.”

For the second year in a row, the event sold out with all 400 available tickets sold. With a menu of crab dip, shrimp cocktail, clam chowder, caesar salad, fresh bread, pasta and ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT CRAB, no one left hungry! Middle school students were the servers for the evening, their tip money going toward their overnight field trips.

“It’s something we look forward to all year,” said Jeanette Messina, SJCS 8th grader and Student Body President and. “We are working, but we also have a lot of fun. We enjoy seeing everyone from the community.”

The evening also included a raffle, silent auction and live auction of a Dwight Clark signed football, all to support St. Joseph Catholic School and the ever-changing needs of providing the best education to students in the Auburn area.

“It is no easy task coordinating this event,” continued Oliver. “I am personally thankful to everyone who volunteers to help - from decorations and ticket sales, to the kitchen and clean-up crew, our community really comes together for the school.”
